Love

"Speak to us of love" . . . the aesthetic . . . the intangible. Love is an elusive quality. Define it? Impossible! Manifested through surrender and devotion to that which we deem worthy, love is life.

Anxiety

Anxiety lurks on the undetermined pathway. Dare we turn to face the frightful fiend behind? Ahead looms the dark unknown. The answer to every plea comes with a silent whisper—"maybe!"

Meditation

We meditated as the soul oftentimes repeated its query: I? WHY? We pondered. We sought answer and insight. The serenity of body and soul united in solitude. A still small Voice speaks somewhere and sings one high, clear note.

Joy

I'm made of bubbles, soaring high into vibrant ecstasy. The burdens of the world are far, far behind, darkened into oblivion. Joy . . . a chronic stimulus which flings us above the soberness of normality.

Melancholy

Melancholy toyed with our castles which shattered and tumbled. It probed the rubbles of disappointment and found too often dejection. The wail of a trumpet heard at midnight . . . you listened until the mournful notes became a cry, until you knew it was not the horn that was crying.

Fulfillment

Fulfillment was our triumph—the reward of a promise to ourselves. Our new carpet is the grass on the other side. With the culmination of truth, honesty, and ambition, our cup has been filled!

Foreword

For fifty years the HACAWA has reflected the progress and development of a greater Lenoir Rhyne. The 1958 volume marks the golden anniversary of a yearbook which, since 1909, has unveiled the intimate story of her student life. Although this current edition bears little tangible resemblance to its original ancestor, the objective has remained the same: "In and around these centers," the 1909 book reads, "the whole student life is here. The HACAWA is an emanation from the work, play, joys, trials and triumphs of the entire college for the year." The eight seniors compiled the first ninety-page book, presenting, perhaps, one-tenth the material contained herein. In your hands is the culmination of the endeavors of a forty-five-member staff and their predecessors.

Dedication

... to one who lives, loves, and illuminates, we dedicate this 1958 HACAWA. As professor and friend with sympathetic understanding, you have respected and guided our developing ideas with formative, not merely informative influence. The thoughts of your ever-searching mind have inspired us to deeper, more worthwhile contemplations. Despite the fading of light from your own eyes, your inner radiance lights the paths of all who know you. May this fiftieth anniversary yearbook serve as a tribute to one whose presence and principles honor our Alma Mater—

President's Message

Your HACAWA, as indicated by the composition of the name, is the story of Halls, Campus, and Walls. In countless and divers ways our treasures, ties, and interests are intertwined with these familiar buildings and campus scenes. Knowledge and ideas, convictions and commitments, associations and friendships have been gained here. Our Alma Mater seeks to impart to her sons and daughters that which endures and is worth keeping—the true, the beautiful and the good. This fiftieth edition of the HACAWA becomes a precious and significant link in the lengthening chain of volumes of fond memories as one student generation after another inhabits the halls, campus, and walls of Lenoir Rhyne College.

The highest student authority, responsible for enforcing college rules and regulations, the Student Cabinet forms a connecting link between Administration and Student Body. In addition to acting as a court of justice, the Cabinet arranged open house schedules, organized homecoming activities, sent representatives to the State Student Legislature, sold blazers, and sponsored campus campaigns and elections.

Student-Faculty Commission

The Student-Faculty Commission arranges the non-academic calendar, analyzes the social situation of the College, and passes such social regulations not provided for in the Constitution.

The search for knowledge—this is why we are here. Our common purpose finds expression in diversity—from eight o'clock classes to midnight research papers—spending many afternoons in the library and evenings in bull sessions. There are times of frustration when darkness clouds our understanding—and moments of exhilaration when we first grasp a truth, knowing it to be ours as much as his who first stated it. We come to the conviction that knowledge lies not so much in memorization of facts as in the realization that education is a constant striving.

Class of 1961

With awe and timidity green rats dive into college life, feeling like little fish in a big pond. Choosing wisely is preached and repeated, but how can you refuse when you are being pulled in a thousand directions? Books . . . fraternities . . . clubs . . . sports . . . people . . . dancing . . . eating . . . Is there no end to this frustration?

Happy, hurried, busy sophomores strut their superiority before the new greenhorns. At last you are an adjusted person, pleased with your accomplishments and chosen activities. You have finally learned to study and play, although the competition between the two is still keen. Things are "looking up!" Gee, but it's great to be a real somebody.

Class of 1959

Life takes on a new meaning. Have you determined wisely your present trends and future plans? Perhaps you should have chosen sociology rather than English. Only one more year and then it's up to you. For slight diversion from such serious thoughts, the operetta makes possible the Junior-Senior banquet and dance as your farewell token to those who cannot turn back.

Class of 1958

We passed through all the stages—the greenness, the bustle, and the indecision. We made mistakes, but looking backward is but futile so we look toward the sun, trusting its brightness will illuminate our new life. Yes, parents and professors to reprimand are among those reliques we have left behind. Graduation sets us treading the grass we hoped would be greener on the other side.

Preparing for unnumbered years in only one leaves no time for meaningless activity (this does not include engagements and marriages). Brevity demands concentration. Shorthand characters! How we struggled to take those forty words a minute at first, but oh, happy day when we unconsciously discovered that eighty was not out of reach! We typed, increasing our efficiency, knowing that in a few short months this achieved skill would be working for something more lucrative than grades.

Activities

College is learning—deep and thorough—but learning is not confined to the intellectual. We seek to be complete, well-rounded . . . to express our thoughts and beliefs clearly, to develop our talents fully, to know our inner selves truly. We seek to appreciate others—to realize their good qualities—seeing their faults, but still loving and admiring them. We learn to dwell in crowds, to feel the electrical charge as a winning point is scored . . . the weekly trudge to the auditorium for convocation . . . the mute beauty of shadows and music and dancing. And still, we keep our individuality over and above the crowd. We become truly active and alive. We serve without hope of reward and work where our interests and capabilities lie. We find our place in society and hope to excel, because through our college activities we learned to fill our space with the best that we have.

Congratulations to the staff of 1958! The finished product responds to our skepticism: "My mental picture of this arrangement is far from pleasant . . . just can't seem to visualize the outcome."

The redecorated HACAWA office served as the gathering place for tired pencils and hundreds of pictures . . . portraits . . . and more pictures. (Thanks to "Linkie" who climbed buildings, stuffed stockings for rat-tails, smothered in his developing "cell," and pressed proofs with an iron!)

In their successful attempt to cooperate with the aims of the editorial staff, Eddie, Kaye, and the business staff set an all-time-high record in the sale of ads.

Because this is the fiftieth Anniversary yearbook, we sought to capture fragments of "golden moments" throughout the year. The staff has worked to make this the most representative HACAWA ever . . . one which actually mirrors student life at Lenoir Rhyne from September, 1957, through May, 1958.

Three scenes will depict the theme, "I've Got a Glory." The opening scene is entitled "Rebirth," showing "Last Year's Christmas" and The Tarnished Tinsel.

the curtains will open on a cathedral for the second scene in a version of "Why the Chimes Rang."

highlighting a modernistic manger scene will be the motion short, of Malotte's "The Lord's Prayer," the movements of which were scored by Margaret Fish, and "O Holy Night," which will be done underlight.

ing the cathedral scene, the a cappella choir will render the following anthems: "Oh, Sing Unto Him," by Levan; "O Come, O Come thine," arranged by Levan; "Sing Noel" by Snyder; "The Rose" a Catalan nativity song; "Pagan," a French carol arranged by Christiansen, and "Glory Be to God," by Berger. An arrangement the Beauty of the Lilies" and "Glory" by Professor Kenneth E. E. arry out the program's theme.

A Cappella Choir

Meeting the challenge of an established reputation, the A Cappella Choir spent hours in rehearsal to maintain the performance demanded by Director Lee.

Praising God in song, the choir made numerous public appearances. They presented special music for college programs and experienced a crowded week of concerts during their annual spring tour, this year visiting states to the north.

The Band

There were times during the year when the "Snappy Sixty" was closer to a "Nifty Fifty," but there was the spirit! There were hours of practice—practice until you didn't know which foot was which, and there were the rewards and unforgettable experiences.

The precision marching in fog . . . the trip to the "mud bowl" at Presbyterian . . . and the terrific Thanksgiving game to cap the season.

The Playmakers

Under the capable direction of Professor George Spence the Playmakers continued to make strides toward perfection. With the facilities of the P. E. Monroe auditorium at hand, the trend in drama at Lenoir Rhyne during this anniversary year was toward the more modern plays (written and produced in a realistic style).

The Playmakers presented a series of one-act plays and worked with the music department on the annual Junior Class production "Oklahoma," in addition to producing three full-length plays, all of which resembled professional talent: Stalag 17, The Glass Menagerie, and several one-act plays.

This group were the Playmakers—directors, actors, stage crew, make-up artists, prompters, properties committees, set-makers, ad sellers, program-compilers, and all the rest. The officers were Ken Phillips, President; Linda Bowman, Vice-President; and Elberta Coulter, Secretary-Treasurer.

Forensics

Enthusiasm compensated for lack of experience as the debators, almost all novices, investigated the pros and cons of the union shop. Seasoned veterans emerged from a year of tournament competition and brought with them a goodly share of honors.

The tradition of the South Atlantic Forensic Tournament was continued under the supervision of the new forensic director, "Coach" Spence.

SEPTEMBER Well, didn't it rain, children! Construction work on an ark was underway.

OCTOBER Then, the plague came. Hundreds were stricken—the flu. There were hardly enough coming to meals to deliver all the sick trays.

NOVEMBER Despite the rain and flu, LR Bears managed to keep us on the sunny side of life.

DECEMBER We sang, decorated trees and rooms, viewed the lovely Christmas play before that welcomed vacation.

JANUARY The first snow whitened the campus as well as girls' faces. Little did we expect a seven inch snow in February.

FEBRUARY Though the Valentine's Dance was halted by the weather, sweethearts still had a ball.

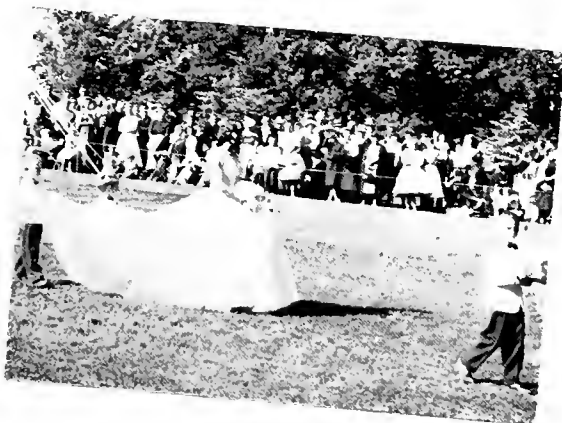

MARCH To follow "H. M. S. Pinafore," the Junior Class proved its ambition by producing "Oklahoma." From start to finish, it was the talk of the campus.

APRIL That hard-earned money from the Junior Class was put to use with the Junior-Senior banquet and dance.

1957-1958 Calendar

Around our campus in nine short months, we'll have these moments to remember. Worse weather and more active flu germs have probably never been known at Lenoir Rhyne. It was a year of firsts. We had our first compulsory convocations in the P. E. Monroe Auditorium and witnessed the erection of a new men's dormitory. The "Honor Roll" changed to "Dean's List." However, old traditions remained with us in the forms of unforgettable freshmen initiation, sorority and fraternity rush, elections, pinnings and engagements. Bear victories, forensic excellence, choir tour, dances, plays. Religious Emphasis Week, homecoming, term papers, and exams. What a wonderful year! What a magnificent place!

MAY The green carpet laced with dogwood and cherry blossoms set the stage for May Day—a closing scene in the ninth act of an eventful year.

Religion

Be still and know that I am God—

What an enriching experience—our souls athirst for truth, to discover afresh in truth our eternal kinship with God. In Him we find refuge and strength, who, through the Spirit, enlightens and directs us in our vocations as students. A still small Voice speaks in the secret chambers of the heart, urging us to strive not for the things which are seen, but for the things which are not seen—that which hallows life and gives peace to man's incontent soul. Though overborne with care, weak or heartless, anxious or troubled, we may raise our voices with that of the poet who captured the true essence of religion—"Lord, what a change within us one short hour spent in Thy presence will avail to make!"

... and we were "carried away" in the crowd! Sports transformed our mood to one of happiness ... anger ... tension ... rejoicing. The Bears did it again! Especially during basketball season, we at Lenoir Rhyne feasted on bear meat. In all the major sports, our men were in the news. Our coaches were honored ... our school, recognized. ## '57 Season

Coach Clarence Stasavich's gridiron powers captured their third straight North State Conference crown at the December 3 conference meeting to climax a season full of surprises, disappointments, and spectacular performances.

The Bears, winning the title amidst one of the most confused situations in the history of the conference, finished the campaign with a respectable 5-1-0 loop mark, but there was some doubt as to who would take the crown. Elon ended the season with a perfect 4-0-0 record but the Christians failed to fulfill the requirements for the crown, as a team needs at least five family engagements to claim the championship.

At a hectic loop meeting, a dramatic action by Elon—that Lenoir Rhyne be declared champions—was unanimously carried after it was almost certain that the conference would declare a "no-champion."

Led by two-time All-American, Harold Bullard, the Bear gridders proved to be not only one of the most offensive but defensive-minded teams in the history of the college.

The Bruins placed three men on the all-conference squad, one was named to the all-state team and three on the All-District 26 NAIA team.

The 1956-57 edition of the Lenoir Rhyne Bears goes down in the annals of gridiron history as one of which to be proud.

GUILFORD vs L. R.

Guilford, generally the weak sister of the North State, felt the Bears' fury in a 55-6 triumph which capped Lenoir Rhyne's giant homecoming festivities.

Talk that the Bears were a one-man team was definitely disproved following the game, for All-American fullback Harold Bullard was confined to a Hickory hospital with the flu. Romping in his place were Bill Ackard and a couple of freshman fullback "finds," Lee Farmer and Tommy Simmons.

Six men figured in the scoring column: Ackard tallied twice on runs of five yards each; wingback Wilson Martin scored on a ten-yard pass from Ackard and an eighty-yarder from Danny Williams; Farmer plunged seven yards; Dean Cline tromped four; little Tommy McCormick scooted 22 yards and Foster gathered in a 21-yard toss from Cline.

In Coach Stasavich's fourth loop win, the Bears found a new aerial attack to their liking, with quarterback Dean Cline showing the way—five completions in five attempts, good for 99 yards. Overall, the Bruins completed 11 to 15, for 194 yards.

But the unheralded linemen, who often have a hard job getting enough recognition, always manage to show-up in the game statistics. Guilford mustered only 90 yards on the ground, the majority of that figure coming on their long scoring drive against the Bear reserves.

Collins converted after five of the touchdowns and Reynolds added two others.

WOFFORD vs L. R.

The lights of College Field shone down on what was called "the battle of the Carolinas' small-college powerhouses" on September 21 at 8 p. m. Wofford's Terriers were challenging the Bears' winning streak.

Two hours later, the men from Spartanburg, S. C. trekked off the field with a win under their jerseys, ending Lenoir Rhyne's unbeaten streak at 21 games—a mark that spanned three seasons.

The scoreboard told part of the story, 13-6. But lights and figures could not reveal the devastating aerial attack that riddled the Bears' defense for both touchdowns. With quarterback Charlie Bradshaw passing and end Jerry Richardson catching, the Terriers pulled the big upset.

The hard-fought battle showed possibilities of becoming a runaway when speedy Bill Ackard hauled in the opening kick-off and raced 80 yards to the Wofford 10. But the Terrier defense was too much and the Bears lost the ball on downs.

The Bruins scored their lone touchdown when guard Norman Punch recovered a fumble on the Wofford 47, and the Bears, mainly behind Harold Bullard and Dickie Foster, drove goalward. Bullard finally culminated the drive by tallying from five yards out.

The Terrier forward wall virtually stopped the Bears' attack, and particularly All-American Bullard.

After the game, Coach Clarence Stasavich remarked, "It was certainly no disgrace to lose to a fine team like that. It's the best team I've seen at Wofford in the last five years."

The 43-0 trampling of Newberry's Indians should have been named "Harold Bullard Night."

As Coach Stasavich summed it up, "The big differences in our win over Newberry were the line play, downfield blocking and Harold Bullard."

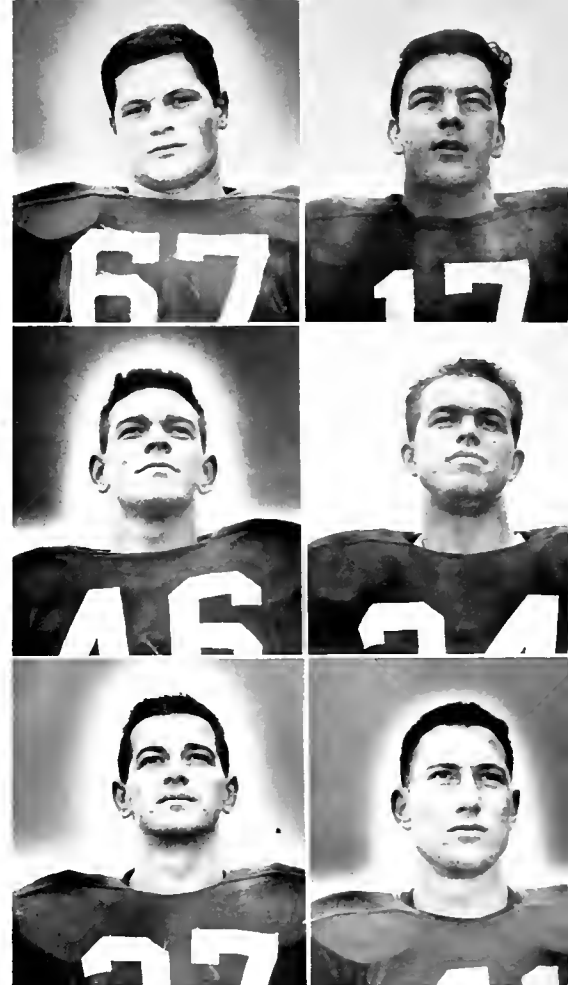

The blasting rocket from Rockingham displayed his true potential against the hapless Newberrians, ripping for five touchdowns, picking up 209 yards and intercepting a pass—not bad for one night's work.

From the very beginning, the famed "Battle of the Lutherans" gave evidence of being "no contest." Bullard tallied on jaunts of 69, 31, 31, 13, and two yards and Ronnie Hoffman added the sixth with a 39 yard dash.

While the majority of the talk centered around Bullard, other backs had a good game also. Hoffman gained 73 yards, Bill Ackard gathered 47 and Dickie Foster picked up 43.

The Bears' line play and downfield blocking, while not generally as spectacular as the long run, were nothing short of sensational. After the game, an official said the Bruins' downfield blocking was the best he had ever seen. Dean Cline, Ackard and Bullard were prominent in this blocking.

Tackle Leveo Sperotto, guard Norman Punch, centers Joe Murphy and Allan LaTorre, and the ends—Hume Collins, Guy Fisher, Frank Weber and Wade Teague—spearheaded a defense that limited the Indians to 69 yards on the turf.

It was a happy Turkey Day for Lenoir Rhyneans—In addition to the usual holiday, the bears stamped rival Catawba by the unbelievable score of 75 to 0.

But it was all true! The growling Bruins, having heard that the winner of the Thanksgiving tussle would no doubt be declared North State Gridiron champs, raced and passed to perfection in rolling up the avalanche of touchdowns.

Lenoir Rhyne picked up 415 yards on the ground and 155 passing. The most astounding fact, however, is that the first team scored only five of the 11 touchdowns—the second and third stringers tallied six.

Harold Bullard, playing his last game for the Bears, scored on romps of 4, 54, 8 and 13 yards and, in recognition of his fine blocking, was named Greensboro Daily News "Athlete of the Week."

Bill Ackard passed for two scores, throwing to John David Moose for a 14-yard strike and to Ronnie Hoffman for nine yards.

Lee Farmer tallied once, Bob Miller, once, Tommy McCormick twice and Tommy Simmons once to round out the Bears' scoring.

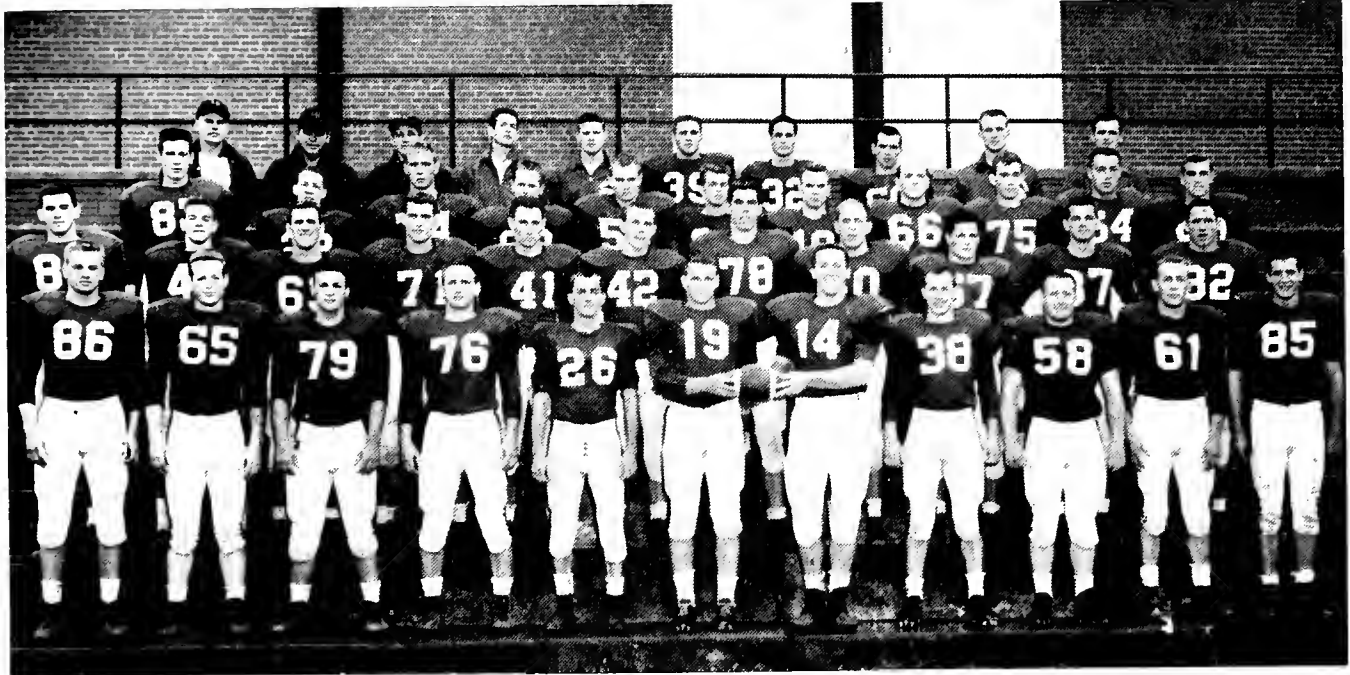

Eight Bears played their final game: Bullard, Hoffman, Collins, Miller, Williams, Cline, Sperotto and Punch.

Basketball 1958

The 1958 edition of the Bear cagers completely disregarded preseason ratings to become the first team in the history of the North State Conference to win two conference titles in succession.

Coach Bill Wells, embarking on his first year as head coach of the Bears, faced a rebuilding stage at the beginning of the campaign with All-American Raeford Wells and All-Conference Walt Cornwell departed from the '57 championship squad.

Wells imported two Kentucky Junior college flashes, Dick Whitis and Bill Reece, and along with the returning lettermen molded a championship team that copped 22 victories while losing only three. Their latest victory heing over the High Point Panthers in the finals of the North State Conference Tournament and with two more wins the Bears can be Kansas City-bound.

Dick Whitis, the leading scorer among junior colleges in Kentucky last season, was brought in to fill the vacated center post and the lanky 6'5" star ended the regular season as the Bears leading scorer and rebounder.

Many honors came Lenoir Rhyne's way as Coach Wells was named the Coach of the Year in District 26 of the N.A.I.A.; Whitis and Captain Tommy Sellari were selected to the All-Conference team and Sellari pulled down an All-State berth.

Veterans Tommy Sellari, Ken Norman, Johnny James and Frank Cline teamed to give the bears their championship combination along with top reserves Eddie Goodnight, Tommy McCormick, Dickie James and Harlan Bowman.

The Bears opened the season by winning five of their first six contests in the pre-holiday games with the only loss being to Belmont Abbey on the Abbey's home court. They had a most successful trip East beating both East Carolina and Atlantic Christian on their home courts in the final game before the holidays.

Following the Christmas holidays the Bears rolled over all conference opposition with the exception of Western Carolina, who beat the Bears on their home court to end the season as the top-seeded team in the North State Conference with a 15-1 record.

Success favored the Bears in the tournament as they dumped Catawba, Western Carolina, and High Point in a row to win the conference title for the second straight year.

Coach Wells remarked, "I think the success of our basketball team this season can be explained in one word PRIDE—the pride of doing the job well . . . pride in Lenoir Rhyne for whom they play, and tremendous pride in the folk of Hickory and in students that have supported them so faithfully.

"There has been full realization that there is a big score-keeper who will make the final tally at the game's end.

"To the boys who have worked hard and faithfully and who have beaten the big odds, go my best wishes for the same kind of future in every phase of life."

Coach Hanley Painter in his first year at the helm of the Bruin baseballers steered his '57 squad to a fourth place position in the North State Conference and ended the season with a loop record of 7-5.

Paced by the hitting of Jerry Fox, Johnny James and Ed Payne and with the pitching of Wayne Moore the Bruins compiled an overall record of 11-8.

Jerry Fox, who pulled in All-State laurels, led the hitting with an even .400 and led in the state in home-runs and runs batted in. He pounded out 10 round-trippers and 35 rbi's. James hit .326 and Ed Payne .319 and Henry Barkley .302 for the other Bruins in the .300 bracket.

Wayne Moore with a 5-2 mound record was the leading Bruin hurler along with Fritz Apple's 2-1 mark and Ralph Carswell's 2-2 record.

Prospects for this spring appear favorable with the entire team with the exception of Mike Glover returning. With all the leading hitters back and several newcomers the Bruins will be a top contender for loop honors. Two top flight freshmen are expected to team with Moore to give the Bears the needed depth in the pitching department.

As we grow older, the thing that becomes more and more clear to us is the importance of friendships. None goes his way alone. Life is a journey and each accompanies the other on that journey.

It is not enough to have emptied a brotherly glass to each other, to have joined the bond of a fraternal organization in building and possessing a common purpose, to have sung together the traditional strains of melodies, symbolic of brotherhood. Genuine friendship is something more—it is a union of our finest feelings, a sympathy, an indefinable trust, a constant communication.

Delta Chi of Theta Chi found 1957-58 to be one of the most successful school sessions in their history. Believing in their motto of "Alma mater first; Theta Chi for alma mater," the more than fifty brothers sought brotherhood through participation in campus activities.

The men of red and white entered "Fountains of Victory" in the Homecoming parade and copped first honors in the "most beautiful" division. Beauty was its highlight with the regal loveliness of Miss Elaine Herndon of Durham, Miss North Carolina, riding atop the entry.

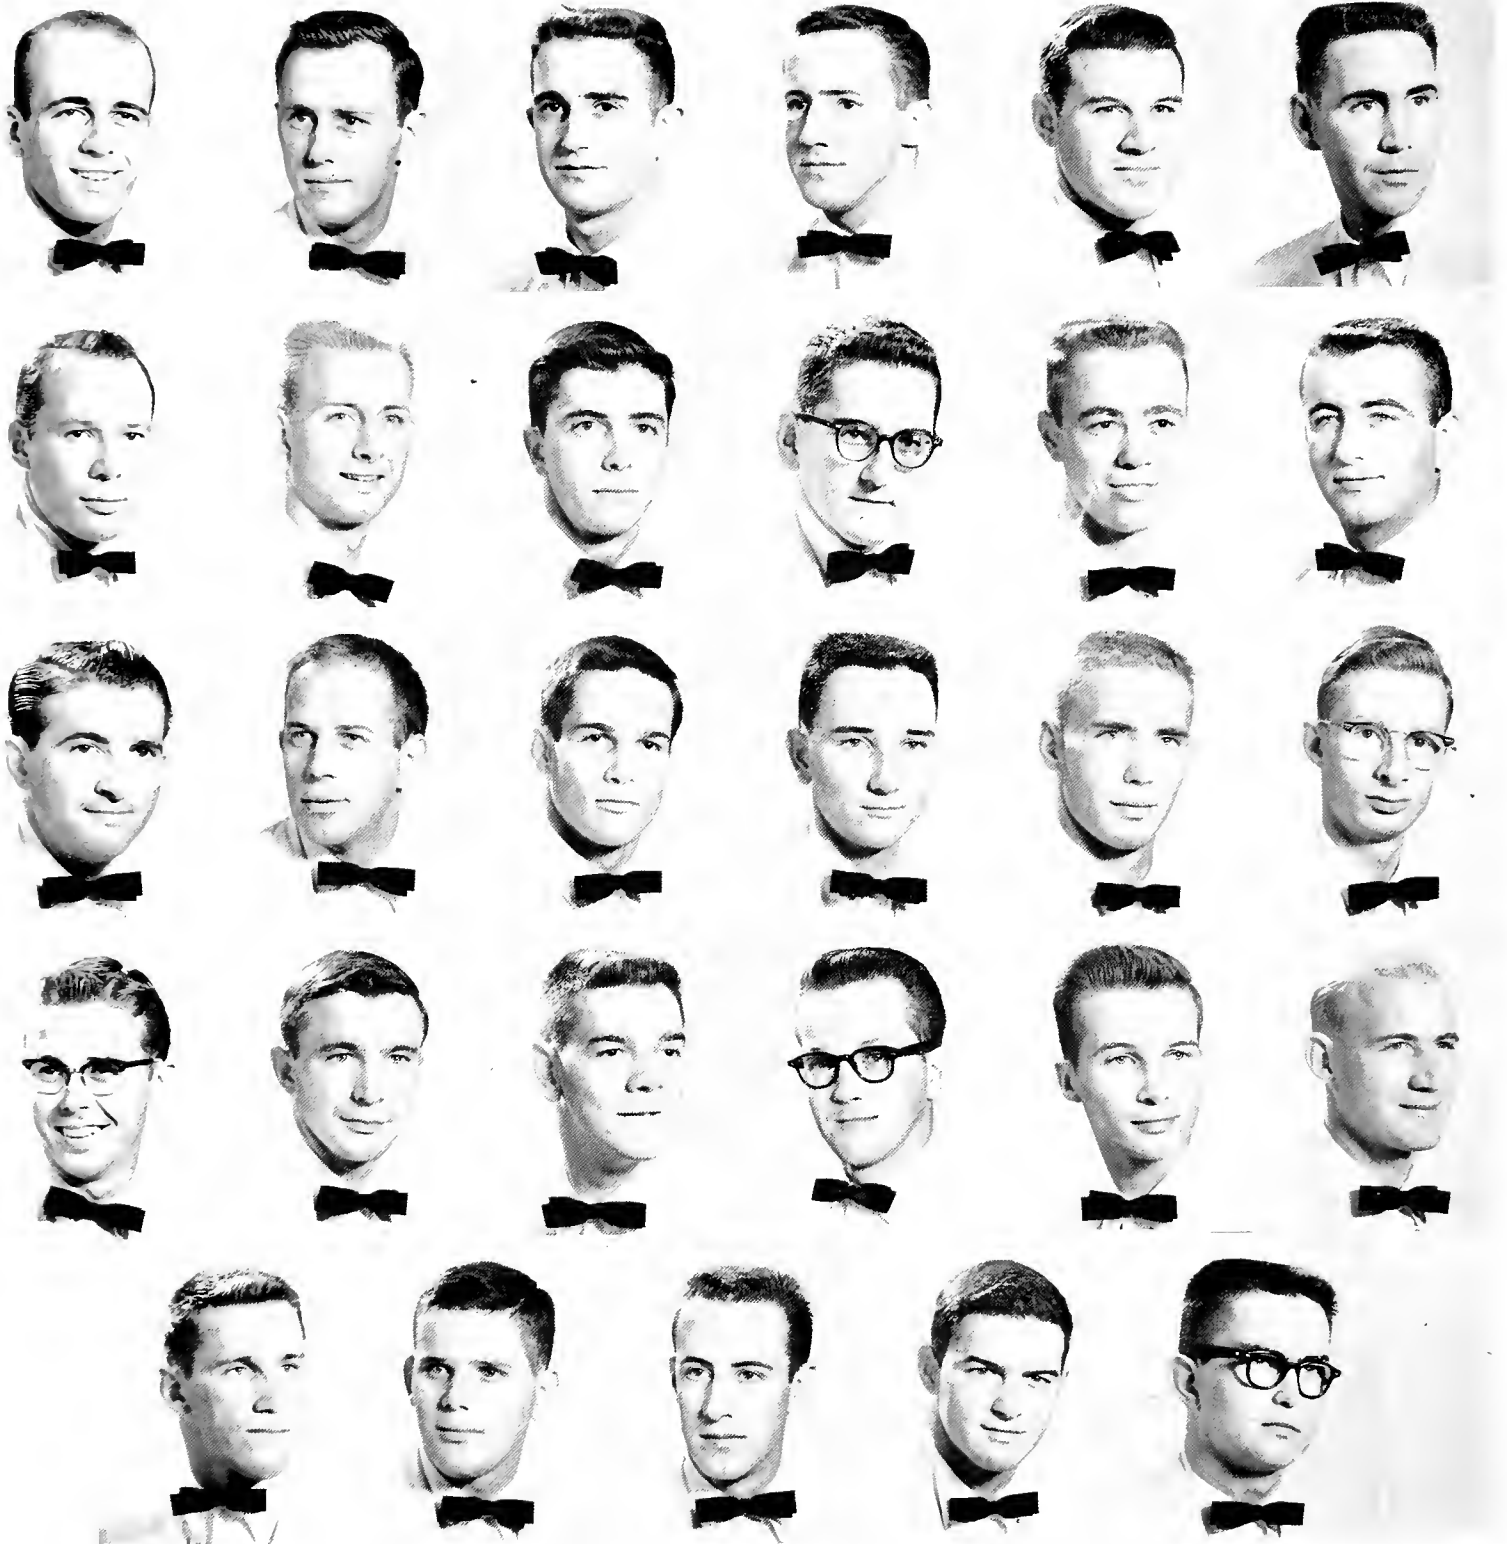

"Christmas in Manhattan," featuring the music of East Carolina College's noted Collegians, was the theme for the Theta Chi-sponsored Christmas Dance in Shuford Gym, the year's largest.

Intramural competition found the Big Red ranking near the top, capturing volleyball and ping-pong titles after fielding strong football and basketball squads.

Other impressionable moments: The pride of owning the HIGHEST fraternity scholastic average for the preceding year . . . the former chapter sweetheart who became a May Queen . . . serenading the "frauleins" . . . bus trips to support the basketball Bears . . . making signs for pep parades . . . outings and parties at the cabins on the lake . . . all of which will live for years to come in the minds of 1957-58 Theta Chi men.

The aims and ideals of Sigma Phi Epsilon are high. The purpose of the fraternity is to create and encourage perpetuation of friendship among men and to develop character and to maintain a high moral standard among her members. The fraternity also stresses work along the scholastic, athletic, and social lines. To impress upon its members the true significance of fraternal relationship and to aid and sustain the institutions at which her chapters are located are other primary objectives of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Sig Ep brothers can look back on fond recollections . . . the St. Louis Conclave attended by seven brothers . . . homecoming float—"Lenoir Rhyne Castle Champions" . . . the joint outing with the TKE's . . . the dance we called "Sweetheart Ball" . . . Professor Russell E. "Bud" Brown as new chapter advisor . . . serenades . . . intramural football champs . . . the fraternity sweetheart—Miss Helgi Kuuskraa.

" . . . Should harm betide me, thou e'er will guide me; Sigma, dear Sigma Phi Epsilon true."

Over one hundred Lenoir Rhyne college men have been inducted into the Delta Iota chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon since it was established on the campus four years ago.

These have been four fruitful years since that April in 1954 when Eta Delta Zeta local fraternity affiliated with the national TKE organization, bringing the "fraternity for men" to Hickory.

At present, some forty Lenoir Rhyne Tekes salute the HACAWA on its fiftieth anniversary, and TKE members look forward to being a part of a progressive Lenoir Rhyne for fifty years to come and thereafter.

Charity, esteem, and love for their fellow man are three cardinal principles of Tau Kappa Epsilon. Through these principles TKE strives to develop social, mental, and physical maturity among the fraters.

The 1957-58 session has been a busy one for the LR Tekes. A popcorn stand at the fair . . . the Carnation Ball with the Duke Ambassadors . . . a homecoming parade float that took second place . . . parties at the lake . . . rides with the pledges . . . incidents that make a college year memorable years hence.

Little things mean a lot!

Kappa Sigma Kappa, the first Lenoir Rhyne national fraternity, entered the local campus during the fall semester of 1950. Outstanding in the KSK code of conduct is the obligation of the brothers to endeavor to reflect the human qualities which they and the fraternity hold paramount—integrity, loyalty, social poise, physical fitness, and leadership.

It should be nothing . . . just memories . . . Just another year. But to the Kappa Sigs of 1958 there are memories of the good moments . . . that have retreated from view . . . that are no longer tangible . . . that cannot be touched or seen or heard . . . only remembered in your mind. Memories . . . of building up the pledge class . . . of the Homecoming float, "We Crown the Team" . . . a new faculty advisor, Professor Strunk . . . Patty Klutz carrying the chapter sweetheart honors . . . intramurals . . . and the Valentine dance, "Some Enchanted Evening"—containing our lives as they advance, enchant, and then retreat from view. Just memories . . .

...in a more subtle manifestation. The poet collected all revelation when he penned: "Beauty is truth, truth is easy to over-

Beautifulies

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever." Two eyes, two lips, two ears, two legs, two arms, a nose . . . can these simple external faculties be truly beautiful? Were we blind, beauty would perhaps be more real to us than it is now. Then we would more often probe beyond the physical and explore, in a person's inner depths, the qualities of essential worth. Beauty, like love, is difficult to define but easy to overlook, because it is more than a mere surface manifestation. The poet reflected real revelation when he penned: "Beauty is truth, truth beauty . . ."
